Supplement, Not Supplant Regulation:

Title I and Title III Supplement, not Supplant regulation ensures that children participating in federal programs receive their fair share of services from state and local funds. The services supported by Title I and Title III must supplement the educational services that would be provided to students in the absence of Title I or Title III. The LEA cannot use federal funds to supplant (take the place of) funds that would, in the absence of Title I or Title III funds, have been spent on limited English proficient (LEP) students to meet the Lau requirements (LAS Links testing, creation of Individual Learning Plans, first and only language development, and translation at teacher/parent conferences).
